Expropriation Bill of 2008

The Institute is launching a report and analysis of the Expropriation Bill of 2008 on 15th May 2008. This report will be published in the May edition of Fast Facts.

Much controversy has already surrounded this piece of legislation with certain analysts seeing it as contributing to further economic and political uncertainty. Dr Anthea Jeffery, Head of Special Research at the Institute, will explain the terms of the bill and explore some of its ramifications which extend well beyond land reform.

Members of the media, and others with an interest in the bill, are invited to attend the briefing, which will be held at

16h30 on 15th May 2008, at
Auden House
68 De Korte Street
Braamfontein.

Parking is available at Jorissen Place opposite the Institute.

Copies of the report will be made available at the briefing. The report will be released to all Media Alert subscribers after the briefing.
