*The South African Institute of Race Relations invites you to a roundtable briefing
by Stuart Pennington*

SOUTH AFRICA: THE GOOD NEWS

Since last year, there has been some anxiety about the state of the country. The change of leadership in the ANC, the Eskom power crisis, and rising inflation are some of the issues that South Africans are concerned about.

The deteriorating health and education system, unemployment, and crime are other problems.

The CEO of SA good news, Stuart Pennington, will challenge some of these assumptions about life in South Africa, and share his thoughts on the state and future of the country.

Please join us for this briefing and you are welcome to bring guests.
